Hi Prof. Seidel,

My name is Tim Ream and I will be the Librarian for the Librarian Instruction Session (on Sept. 26th) for your Jour110H students.

Just so I can make the session as informative and relevant as possible, please send me a syllabus for your course.

Also (if possible), please send me any assignment/paper instructions that are connected to your students performing research using Library resources.

I appreciate your help here and look forward to meeting you and your students on Sept. 26th.

Hi Tim,

Thanks! Nice to virtually meet you. I have attached my syllabus. We are part of a learning communities and joined with honors social psychology. So, the students are taking my mass media class and the social psych class back to back. Our lectures and assignments compliment each other and we have a combined final research paper.

So, we will be looking at the effects of mass media and the study of mass media related theories.

They don't have a research assignment yet. But I want them to do something connected to what you will show them that I can turn into a quick homework assignment.

Does that make sense?

Hi Prof. Seidel,

Yes, this all makes sense.

Thank you for the syllabus and for explanation as to how the course is structured.

I will use this information to prepare for the upcoming Library Instruction Session. I will email you if I have any further questions before then.

Thanks,
Tim

Hi Prof. Seidel,

Sorry to bother you, but I had another question in preparation for our upcoming Library Instruction Session:

Do you have any research assignments from past sections of Journalism 110H (or something similar)? Looking at these would help give me a better understanding of where to direct my instruction.

If you don't have anything of this nature though, it's fine. I can always build my instruction session based upon the information you have already provided to me.

Thanks,

This is actually the first time we have offered JOUR 110 H, so there isn't any past assignments to share. :)

Some of the types of research assignments that students have done in the non honors class is on things like the effects of violence in the media on people, do studies show that it creates violent behavior in people? That's a suggestion.

Will that help?

Sorry I don't have anything yet.

Thanks again!

Jay
