Discussion with Prof. Bates Regarding Comm. 100 LIS

Tuesday, 2/20/18, 12:58 PM

Hi Prof. Bates,

My name is Tim Ream and I will be the Librarian providing the Library Instruction Session to your students on Friday, February 23rd.

Before each of these sessions, I typically contact the instructor to find out if there are any specialized topics, assignments or guidelines that they would like for me to cover.

As I understand from the instruction request form, it looks like your students will be working on a persuasive speech. Is there a formal assignment/prompt that you can email me to prepare for your session?

Also, if possible, please send over your syllabus for the course. This helps me get a better understanding of the course goals a whole, and allows me to better construct my session around your students' needs.

Thank you, and I look forward to meeting you and your class on the 23rd.

Thanks,

Tim Ream

Hi Tim,

Thanks in advance for meeting with my class. The instruction session will be most helpful for the classes upcoming informative and persuasive research projects and presentations. They will not begin these assignments for several more weeks. We are starting to put together the different components of these assignments, one of which is where to find material/ research for these assignments. At this point, they are aware of the assignments but have not selected specific research subjects. I wanted them to be exposed to research tools and strategies before they select a topic. That way they can check if there will be research available to them on the topics they are interested in. After you are finished with them, we are going downstairs to work with your reference books; which will be unrelated to what you are covering and is unrelated to their informative and persuasive assignments. If it is helpful, I have a detailed description of their assignments as well as examples posted on the following link www.wix.com/speechisfun/fullerton hopefully that helps. Let me know if there is anything else I can do to assist you. I will be in the room during the orientation. Looking forward to see you on Fri. thanks ben
