Discussions with Prof. Sanchez Regarding English 100

Thursday, February 15, 1:08 PM

Hi Prof. Sanchez,

I just wanted to email you and introduce myself. My name is Tim Ream and I will be the Librarian conducting the Library Instruction Session for your English 100 course on February 21st.

I have read over the assignment prompt (regarding issues with the education system in the U.S.), but I thought I would reach out and see if there specific topics and/or library resources (beyond what is addressed in the prompt) that you would like for me to cover.

If possible, please forward me a copy of your syllabus. Combined with the assignment prompts, the syllabus allows for me to get a better understanding of the course goals as a whole, and how they relate to Library services and resources.

I also normally ask instructors if they would like for me to cover some of the more preliminary topics involving the Fullerton College Library—such as where to locate reference materials, how to access reserves and ILLs, and other library policies and procedures. Would you like for me to cover topics like these, or would you rather have me jump straight into locating relevant assignment information using our Library catalog and databases?

I look forward to meeting with you and your class on the 21st!

Thanks,

Tim Ream

Hi, Tim!

Thanks for the email. I look forward to meeting you next week.

I've attached my assignments here. I hope they help. Essays 2, 4, and 5 will require research. Feel free to do what you normally do: cover some of the more preliminary topics involving the Fullerton College Library—such as where to locate reference materials, how to access reserves and ILLs, and other library policies and procedures.

Thank you!

Hi Adriana,

Sounds good. As I work on the materials for your class, I will send them over so you have an idea of what to expect.

I really like your assignments—I hadn't thought about the band Spitboy in almost 20 years! I didn't know there was a book about their experiences. I'll have to add it to our Library collection and relive some of my rock n' roll memories from the 90's.

Thanks for all of the information here. I look forward to teaching your class on the 21st.

Thanks,

Tim Ream

Hi Adriana,

I was just reminded that I actually have 2 sessions scheduled with your classes next week—one on Wednesday and another on Thursday. Should the Library instruction pretty much be the same for both English 100 classes?

Thanks,

Tim

Yes, please. Thank you!

Hi Prof. Sanchez,

We have a new software/service at the Library called "LibGuides." It basically allows the Librarian to create basic online subject and course guides that direct students to useful Library (and Internet) resources.

Although I am still working on this, I've created a basic course guide for your students.

I thought you might want to review it before I provided the link for your students tomorrow and on Thursday:

Thanks,

Hi Prof. Sanchez,

I just wanted to give you and your students a "heads up" regarding our session on Wednesday. Because I'm a new faculty member, I will be observed by a tenured faculty member. Also, the final 10 minutes of the class will consist of your students filling out a evaluation of my Library Instruction Session. Let me know if this poses any sort of problem, and I will contact the faculty member observing me.

Thanks,

Tim Ream

Tim,

The LibGuides are fantastic! Thank you! Good luck with your observation! It does not pose any sort of problem. You're going to do great!

Hi Tim,

I just realized that today's session is scheduled for 12:55 - 1:55. Can we please wrap it up by 1:50?

Thank you!
